

Brand Guide

The Logo

The logo is inspired by the inner markings of a tree. The markings reveal tree's age and represent the time it has endured, just as a changelog represents the evolution of a project. The pattern is paired with a simple, but bold sans serif typeface. It balances well and allows the lettermark to sit perfectly within the tree's pattern.

The Brandmark

The brandmark acts as a compact representation of the brand and can have many color combinations. It can be used as a standalone brandmark, avatar image, favicon, and much more.

The Color Palette

This palette is inspired by campfires and the earthy tones that you'll find in the mountains. The bright aesthetic is balanced by the grounded neutral colors. Successful logging leads to a great fire project. Amiright?

The Badge

The badge is inspired by camping in the great outdoors. The scene illustrates hatchets splitting logs of wood for a warm campfire under a starry, night sky. The log patterns are cohesive with the logo and brandmark

The Typography

Sofia Pro is a grotesque font that is inspired by the bold typography found in the “Firewatch” Game and Draplin’s “Field Notes”. Its boldness balances well as a header to Source Code Pro, a monospaced font that represents the content of a changelog.
